

Women in Trades – Multi Industry Pre-Apprenticeship Support Project

The Women in Trades – Multi Industry Pre-Apprenticeship Support Project is supported by the Victorian Department of Education and Training – Apprenticeships Victoria and aims to provide female participants with the opportunity to have a “hands-on” trial of a range of vocational trade occupations.

Each participant will engage with 3-4 different industries to research and experience first-hand what it really takes to be successful in that industry.

It is anticipated that better informed career choices will lead to improved commencement and retention rates for women in trade apprenticeships.

This program will also support host employers to engage with a number of female participants through the program to find the best possible fit for their business when looking to recruit an apprentice or trainee.
